Mark Lantzy, SVP & CIO, Indiana University Health; President, IU Health Plans

Mark Lantzy is the senior vice president and chief information officer at Indiana University Health, Indiana's leading healthcare system. He is responsible for overseeing information services, including strategic planning, operations and project delivery for the 15-hospital system. He is also the president of IU Health Plans, the 200,000-member health insurance arm of IU Health that offers Medicare Advantage, individual and family, and commercial plans.

Lantzy has more than 20 years of leadership experience in the healthcare field, and was the chief operating officer and chief information officer at Gateway Health, a managed care organization based in Pittsburgh, prior to joining IU Health in 2016. He also was a senior information technology leader at WellCare Health Plans, Aetna, and Accenture. He holds an M.S. in defense science from George Washington University and a B.A. in mathematics from St. Vincent College.

Named among the "Best Hospitals in America" by U.S. News & World Report for 19 consecutive years, IU Health is dedicated to providing a unified standard of preeminent, patient-centered care. A unique partnership with Indiana University School of Medicine – one of the nation's leading medical schools – gives its highly skilled physicians access to innovative treatments and the latest research and technology.
